

When you reached that point in your career where making a positive difference for your clients is actually your top priority, come see how we've been doing it for over 20 years.

In a widespread industry movement, today's uncompromising financial professionals are fleeing from banks and brokerage firms that relentlessly push their corporate profit agenda ahead of the client's.

While many consider a transition to independence, the most experienced have the option to rise above the traditional sales rep and become Fee-Only Advisors. No more broker dealers, production quotas or pay-out grids. No fine-print disclosure of conflicts. No "hybrid" flavors of objectivity.

The Mellons and Rockefellers didn't invest with an institution. They hired the best talent they could find, created their own Financial Team, and paid them a fee to represent the family's best interests. Seasoned financial advisors whose knowledge and experience command a respectable fee don't need sales licenses or broker-dealers. Their knowledge, skills and experience are very valuable to wealthy clientele. And, without being handcuffed by an institutional profit agenda, they can produce significant savings for their clients and earn a significant income for themselves.

FirsTrust has been nationally recognized as one of America's elite wealth management firms, and proudly claims the title of True Fiduciary by delivering objective, fee-paid investment management, financial planning, tax and estate planning services to affluent clientele for over 20 years.

We are currently seeking competent, like-minded professionals to join our Daytona Beach, FL and Atlanta, GA Financial Teams; with all the corporate, regulatory and operational infrastructures already in place to help you move from "working" a job to "owning" your business.
